THIRD LECTURE DELIVERED BY DR. SYMONDS*"Some Religious Problems of the Day."*RELIGION AND EVOLUTION.*Religion Not a Diminishing, but an Increasing Force in Life.

Dr. Symonds delivered the third of a series of lectures he is giving on "Some Religious Problems of the Day" before a large and appreciative audience at the Central Y.M.C.A. yesterday. The topic for the day was "Religion and Evolution."

In his opening remarks Dr. Symonds reviewed the conclusions arrived at in the last lecture as a definition of Religion as a "feeling of dependence upon and also fellowship with the Infinite source of all things." We concluded that Religion, like other phenomena, develops, and as it develops it shapes itself in a large degree to the new conditions of a new age. What is the relation of Religion to Evolution, the great doctrine that was the special contribution of the 19th Century to human knowledge?

Evolution as a theory has come to be applied to almost every department of human knowledge—to all human experience. Goethe beheld the idea like a vision in the air, so to speak. Cardinal Newman wrote a book suggestive of the ideas later crystallized by Darwin. Evolution is a certain principle in accordance with which things are to be what they are. With some modification it might be defined as "a measure of creation." The universal application of the doctrine to account for the origin of the human species gave to the whole world a shock. At first by no means the Church alone opposed it, but leading scientists refused to accept the theory. A vehement controversy ensued with the result that the doctrine in due course of time was accepted with all its applications by all leaders of thought, both religious and scientific. In the latter part of the 19th Century a speaker at Oxford turned, during the course of his speech, to the scientific men present, and said "Leave me my ancestors in Paradise, and I will leave yours in the zoological gardens." Ministers should not now be afraid to accept the doctrine. Many people, especially young people, may think it contradictory to the teaching of the Church and Bible, and therefore become antagonistic to the Church. It may involve change, but change is more form, and not essence.

How does the doctrine of Evolution fit in with the first three chapters of Genesis? It does not fit in at all if we accept the literal truth of these chapters. But the early chapters of the Bible are no longer regarded by theologians as literal history. McGill University would not think of prescribing these chapters as a text book in Biology. The early chapters must be interpreted in the light of the book in its entirety—the spiritual teaching is what is important in them. The popular ideas of the first man are derived rather from Milton's "Paradise Lost" than from Genesis. According to poets and other imaginaries who have got away from the truth of the Bible, Adam and Eve were very simple people indeed. We would certainly credit Plato or Socrates with having more sense than they had. "Man was made in the image of God," should not be taken in a literal sense. The true meaning is that man has a religious instinct, and is therefore like God.

Dr. Symonds then went on to discuss the relation of Evolution and the Doctrine of the Fall. Evolution means a change for the better. The doctrine of the Fall, as currently thought, means that man was born perfect, and has passed into degradation. There is an apparent incompatibility here. But notice that there is nothing said about the Fall in Genesis—it is a doctrine of poets, etc. The serpent means something outside—something eternal. After Adam and Eve have eaten of the fruit they hear the voice of God, which means conscience has awakened in them. In the conversation between God and the Heavenly Beings the remark is heard, "Behold, they have become as one of us." That is to say Adam and Eve were now in the possession of the knowledge of good and evil. Chapter III of Genesis works the transformation or evolution of man from an innocent being into a moral being. Innocence is of the animal, an infant is innocent because the moral instinct is unknown. Thus the doctrine of evolution is in harmony with the early chapters of Genesis—it is by evolution that man rises to the state of knowledge of the moral distinction between Right and Wrong. Thus we see that the early chapters of Genesis should be studied not as history, but as spiritual truths in symbolic form. No one should feel that acceptance of the theory of Evolution involves estrangement from the Church.

Does Religion develop? If so, may we anticipate a day when Christianity will be succeeded by some even higher Faith? Our answer to the first question is in the affirmative. There has been much study on Evolution in Religion, but it is very difficult to trace out the cause. Several scholars have attempted to trace this Evolution through successive stages. The "Encyclopaedia Britannica" has a very good article on this. A professor in the University of Pennsylvania traces

LIEUT. E. A. CORBETT NOW
AT SEAFORD CAMP, ENG.*Engaged in Establishing College for Soldiers, Meets McGill Men.

The following is a letter received by H. A. Melville, Secretary of the Students' Council, from Lieut. E. A. Corbett, now stationed at Seaford Camp, England:

Hut No. 1, Y.M.C.A.,
Seaford Camp,
Sussex, England,
Oct. 28, 1917.

Dear —, I am starving to death for sight of a McGill Daily. It is not much use having it sent weekly, because mails are so irregular now. But if you could roll up a bundle of back numbers from the beginning of term, and ship them to me, it would be a very fine Christmas act.

We have embarked upon another ambitious educational scheme here. We are starting a college for soldiers. It will be possible for them to study almost any subject from Latin to Agriculture, when we get going. I am promoting the scheme here at Seaford, and having lots of fun. I am running across lots of McGill men. Capt. Stewart Forbes is here. Also Sergt. Rose, of McGill Classical Dept. Also Frank Stanton, and dozens of others.

At Witley Camp a few weeks ago I saw a lot of the McGill Siege Battery boys. I don't expect to get to France until after Christmas. But am hoping that I shall get my turn some time between that and spring.

Hope things are going well at the Union, and with the Daily.
Kindest regards to yourself.
Yours sincerely,
E. A. CORBETT.

BIBLE STUDY GROUPS WILL ASSEMBLE.

At the Annual Rally Supper on the 6th inst. it was unanimously decided to hold the weekly study periods on each Monday evening, meeting for supper at 6 o'clock, following which the groups would meet with their Leaders for an hour from 6.45 to 7.45 to take up the Bible course arranged. Last week the opening of the classes was postponed owing to the financial Campaign Supper, and therefore to-night, at 6 o'clock every student that was at the Rally Supper is expected to be at the Hall, and to bring as many of his own year with him as possible. This year the "Y" has been fortunate in securing, along with many of last year's teachers, a number of prominent graduates who have voiced their desire of meeting with McGill students for this one hour per week period to discuss every day problems and to give of their experience and knowledge of religious questions.

LIEUT. HAGUE IN LONDON.

Lieut. Kennington H. S. Hague, Sci. '14, is now enjoying a ten days' leave of absence in London, the first leave he has had since he went overseas two and a half years ago. He enlisted as a private under Dr. Starkey, in the sanitary section of the Army Medical Corps in which there were a number of McGill men. He was very soon given non-commissioned rank, and did good work as a sergeant in the sanitary section. After nearly two years with them, he took a commission in the Heavy Artillery, and is now with the 4th Canadian Siege Battery, which is with the other Canadian units in France. His brother, Lieut. Owen, C. F. Hague, Sci. '09, was killed in action near St. Julien in May, 1915.

ROUTE OF PARADE.

Meeting at Victoria Square, to leave at 10 o'clock, the parade will go west from the square along St. Antoine street to Windsor street, up to Dorchester street, west to Mountain street, north to Sherbrooke street, and east on Sherbrooke street to Parc Lafontaine, where it will disband.

WILL MARCH IN
PARADE TO-DAY*Students' Council and Seniors also Expected to Take Part.*ROUTE OF PARADE.*Stand Erected in Front of Campus for Committee.

The McGill C.O.T.C. will take a prominent part in the Victory Loan Parade to-day. Orders have been issued to the men to "fall in" at 8.15 a.m. on the campus. The battalion will then proceed to the Champ de Mars, and will there join the main body of the parade. The McGill C.O.T.C. will form a part of the 3rd Brigade under the command of Lieut. Col. Robert Starke. In addition to the C.O.T.C., it is expected that a number of upper year men, and those exempted from military training, also ex-members of the Students' Council will take part in the procession.

A reviewing stand has been erected in front of the McGill Campus, for the convenience of the friends of the committee.

The route which the parade will follow is as follows:

Meeting at Victoria Square, will leave at 10 o'clock, and go west from the Square along St. Antoine St., to Windsor St., and east on Sherbrooke St. to Parc Lafontaine, where it will disband.

The soldiers will meet at Champ de Mars, under Major-Gen. Wilson, at 9.15 o'clock. They will fall in there and later march to Victoria Square, by way of St. James street.

They will be led by 'A' troop of the D.Y.R.C.H., with Gen. Wilson and all his staff officers marching immediately behind the troops.

The First Brigade will comprise the Great War Veterans, the Army and Navy Veterans, and the 1st and 2nd Battalions, Depot Regiments, with attached units.

The 2nd Brigade, under command of Lieut. Col. G. R. Hooper, O.C. 6th Brigade, C.F.A., will comprise the Artillery Units, the 4th Field Co. Canadian Engineers, and the 4th Detachment, Corps of Guides.

The 3rd Brigade, under command of Lieut. Col. Robert Starke, O.C. 12th Infantry Brigade, will comprise the McGill C.O.T.C., the Laval C.O.T.C., and the 1st, 3rd and 5th Infantry Regiments.

The 4th Brigade, under command of Lieut. Col. E. M. Renouf, O.C. 7th Brigade, C.F.A., will comprise the 55th, 58th and 65th Infantry Regiments and the Highland Cadets. The uniforms are drill order, with great coats and side arms only. Officers of the District Staff, Returned Officers of the C.E.F., and Militia Officers will fall in for the parade four paces behind General Wilson and his Staff.

In the parade there will be about 125 sections, including Mounted Police, U.S. Marines and band, French Returned Wounded Soldiers, American soldiers and their band—about 70 men, Canadian soldiers of the Great War, 2,500 men of the Canadian militia, then a long row of civic and provincial leaders headed by Mayor Martin and Sir Lomer Gouin, the mayors and aldermen of the suburban cities, a Red Cross Ambulance ship, long rows of floats of all classes, many of them modelled after those in the great Liberty Loan parade held recently in New York. Protestant, Catholic and Jewish clergymen, fire brigade, and scores of others.

The C.P.R. is building for the occasion a new engine, No. 300,000,000, which will steam through the streets in the parade; the Grand Trunk will have a grain elevator in full operation. The American Women's Club have a float called Liberty, a second is drawn by four coal black Shetland ponies loaned by Mr. J. E. Chandler and M. E. Watson.

THE ROYAL MILITARY COLLEGE OF CANADA.

THERE are few national institutions of more value and interest to the country than the Royal Military College of Canada. Notwithstanding this, its object and the work it is accomplishing are not sufficiently understood by the general public.

The College is a Government Institution, designed primarily for the purpose of giving instruction in all branches of military science to Cadets and Officers of the Canadian Militia. In fact, it corresponds to Woolwich and Sandhurst.

The Commandant and military instructors are all officers on the active list of the Imperial Army, lent for the purpose, and there is in addition a complete staff of professors for the civil subjects which form such an important part of the College course. Medical attendance is also provided.

Whilst the College is organized on a strictly military basis, the cadets receive a practical and scientific training in subjects essential to a sound modern education.

The course includes a thorough grounding in Mathematics, Civil Engineering, Surveying, Physics, Chemistry, French and English.

The strict discipline maintained at the College is one of the most valuable features of the course, and in addition the constant practice of gymnastics, drills and other exercises of all kinds, ensures health and excellent physical condition.

Commissions in all branches of the Imperial service and Canadian Permanent Force are offered annually.

The diploma of graduation is considered by the authorities conducting the examination for Dominion Land Surveyors to be equivalent to a university degree, and by the Regulations of the Law Society of Ontario, it obtains the same exemption as a B.A. degree.

The length of the course is three years in three terms of 9 1/2 months each.

The total cost of the course, including board, uniform, instructional material and all other expenses, is $1,000. The annual competitive examination for admission to the College, takes place in May of each year at the headquarters of the several military districts.

Full particulars regarding this examination and for any other information, application should be made to the Secretary of the Militia Council, Ottawa, Ont., or to the Commandant, Royal Military College, Kingston, Ont.

PROVINCE OF QUEBEC

DEPARTMENT OF COLONIZATION, MINES AND FISHERIES.
The chief minerals of the Province of Quebec are Asbestos, Chromite, Copper, Iron, Gold, Molybdenite, Phosphate, Mica, Graphite, Ornamental and Building Stone, Clay, etc.

The Mining Law gives absolute security of Title and is very favourable to the Prospector.

MINERS' CERTIFICATES.
First of all, obtain a miner's certificate, from the Department in Quebec, or from the nearest agent. The price of this certificate is $10.00, and it is valid until the first of January following. This certificate gives the right to prospect on public lands and on private lands, on which the mineral rights belong to the Crown.

The holder of this certificate may stake mining claims to the extent of 200 acres.

WORKING CONDITIONS.
During the first six months following the staking of the claim, work on it must be performed to the extent of at least twenty-five days of eight hours.

SIX MONTHS AFTER STAKING.
At the expiration of six months from the date of the staking, the prospector, to retain his rights, must take out a mining license.

MINING LICENSE.
The mining license may cover 40 to 200 acres in unsurveyed territory. The price of this license is Fifty Cents an acre per year, and a fee of $10.00 on issue. It is valid for one year, and is renewable on the same terms, on producing an affidavit that during the year work has been performed to the extent of at least twenty-five days' labor on each forty acres.

MINING CONCESSION.
Notwithstanding the above, a mining concession may be acquired at any time at the rate of $5.00 an acre for SUPERIOR METALS, and $3.00 an acre for INFERIOR MINERALS.

The attention of prospectors is specially called to the territory in the North-Western part of the Province of Quebec, north of the height of land where important mineralized belts are known to exist.

PROVINCIAL LABORATORY.
Special arrangements have been made with the POLYTECHNIC SCHOOL of LAVAL UNIVERSITY, 228 ST. DENIS STREET, MONTREAL, for the analysis of minerals at very reduced rates for the benefit of miners and prospectors in the Province of Quebec. The well equipped laboratories of this institution and its trained chemists ensure results of undoubted integrity and reliability.

The Bureau of Mines at Quebec will give all the information desired in connection with the mines and mineral resources of the Province, on application addressed to

NEWS ITEMS CONCERNING MCGILL GRADUATES ENGAGED IN VARIOUS BRANCHES OF MILITARY SERVICE

Lt.-Col. T. C. Irving, D. S. O., Recently Killed While on Active Service. Major McTaggart, Sci. '15, Reported Wounded. Capt. George W. Shearer, Sci. '07, Wounded While in Pursuit of Duty.

Lt.-Col. T. C. Irving, D.S.O.

The death of Lieut.-Col. T. C. Irving, Jr., D.S.O., past student, he having been killed while "carrying on" in France the other day, was received with deep regret by a large body of Canadians. Lt.-Col. Irving was one of the most popular club and business men in Toronto. The eldest son of T. C. Irving, "Tommy" Irving, Jr., was born in Toronto in 1879. He chose engineering as a profession, and took his course at Toronto and McGill Universities. At Toronto University he took a keen interest in sport, and was manager of the third Rugby team in 1900.

In business life he was originally associated with F. H. Clergue as chief assistant, and was identified particularly with the development of the Helen Mine and the building of the Algoma Central Railway, which now forms part of the Lake Superior Corporation. Latterly he was vice-president of Robt. W. Hunt and Co., Ltd.

Lt.-Col. Irving's military career dates back to 1908, when he received a commission in the 2nd Field Co., Canadian Engineers, the old University of Toronto Engineers. About 1911 he was promoted to Captain and acted as 2nd in command in the company.

About August 1st, 1914, he appreciated the fact that there would shortly be a necessity for overseas troops, and it was largely through his efforts that, before Britain declared war, over 100 men of the 2nd Field Company had been interviewed and had stated their willingness to serve overseas should the occasion arise. Capt. Irving's name headed this list, and from that date his whole energy was devoted to recruiting and training men for service in his old company.

For the first few days in Valcartier, Capt. Irving was in command of the 2nd Field Company, and Major Lindsay was Officer Commanding the Divisional Engineers. General Hughes put Lt.-Col. Armstrong in as Officer Commanding the 2nd Field Company, which left Capt. Irving second in command.

With this rank he proceeded with the company to England and carried on there during that arduous period on Salisbury Plain. Just before the company moved to France in February, 1915, Major Lindsay, by reason of an injury, was forced to remain behind, which left Captain Irving in command of the company. Through the period at Bourlax and all through the second battle of Ypres, until Major Lindsay rejoined just before Festubert, Capt. Irving was commanding. Later, after the company had moved up to Romarin, Major Lindsay was made a Lt.-Colonel, commanding the 1st Canadian Divisional Engineers. Captain Irving got his majority and the command again of the 2nd Field Company, Canadian Engineers.

On many occasions during this period Major Irving carried on under conditions under which the average officer would have broken down. He held the respect of all his officers and men to such an extent that they would have done anything for him at his slightest wish. On one occasion a shell burst beside him and he was in a daze for four days following, but carried on as though nothing had happened.

He remained in command of the company during those very strenuous nine months when the company was looking after trenches in front of Messines, then later when the company moved back to the Ypres salient, and all through those now historical engagements during the summer of 1916.

In the fall of 1916 he was made a Lt.-Colonel, received the D.S.O., and given command of the 4th Divisional Engineers after the death of Lt.-Col. Inksetter, in which appointment he was at the time he was killed. Lt.-Col. Irving met his death by a shell while sitting in his hut and writing a letter, dying a few minutes later.

Major G. D. Powis.
Major Gordon Douglas Powis, Sci. '10, who went overseas with the 63rd Canadians, has been killed in action in the recent fighting, according to a late casualty list. Major Powis enlisted at Edmonton in 1915, and went overseas last year. He was employed by the Canadian Westinghouse Company, Calgary, on enlistment. A widow and infant daughter survive.

Major W. B. McTaggart.
Major W. B. McTaggart, Sci. '15, of the Canadian Field Artillery, reported wounded, is a native of St. Mary's, Ont. A graduate of the Royal Military College, Kingston, he enlisted in 1914 as a subaltern in a battery of Field Artillery, and has since been three times wounded.

Lieut. G. H. Fletcher.
Lieut. Gilbert Hyndman Fletcher, Arts '11, known to hundreds of recent McGill men as "Phinny" Fletcher, is reported wounded. Lieut. Fletcher was pursuing a course at the Montreal Presbyterian College when he enlisted in 1916 in the 148th Battalion as a private. When the 148th arrived in England he was promoted to the commissioned ranks, and after training in the Canadian Military School, was drafted to another battalion in France. Lieut. Fletcher was connected with various student undertakings at the University. His home is in Melbourne, Ont.

Captain G. W. Shearer.
Captain George W. Shearer, Sci. '07, of the Canadian Field Artillery, who was recently slightly wounded, but failed to remain on duty with his battery, took his M.Sc. degree at McGill, and was practicing his profession as an electrical engineer in Montreal previous to enlistment. His home is at Carlton Avenue, Westmount.

Lieut. John A. Stephen.
Lieut. John A. Stephen, past student, of the Services, reported wounded in the recent fighting, enlisted originally with a Western Infantry battalion, and after transferring to the Engineers, won his commission. He has been in France with the Railway Troops for an extended period, and last spring was accidentally wounded. Lieut. Stephen comes from Ottawa.

According to press advices from England, Colonel H. S. Birkett, C.B.E., Med. '86, has been forced to relinquish the command of No. 3 Canadian General Hospital (McGill), through ill-health. He is now in England about to undergo an operation for an internal complaint.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Gordon Macpherson, Montreal, announce the engagement of their daughter, Helen, to Captain F. E. Gendron, Sci. '15, of the Royal Canadian Engineers, Quebec, the marriage to take place shortly.

Captain P. A. Landry, Sci. '03, has been gazetted an adjutant to the Royal Flying Corps.

The London Times pays a warm tribute to Major Talbot M. Papineau, Arts '04, Law '10, and says he had done sterling service throughout the war not only at the front, where he proved himself an invaluable officer, but as a shining example of French-Canadian patriotism, under unusually difficult conditions. "Canada has suffered no more serious loss to her political future."

In a lengthy obituary notice The Times emphasizes the fact that although pressed more than once to return to the staff of the Canadian Corps, Major Papineau preferred to remain with his men with whom he fought throughout 1917, and to whom he was devoted.

"Major Papineau was not an Imperialist in the ordinary sense. He was first and foremost a Canadian, and utterly opposed to little Canada."

THE WEEK IN REVIEW.

The final plans for the Y.M.C.A. Financial Campaign were formulated Monday evening, when the various teams gathered at a supper held in Strathcona Hall. Dean Adams, of the Faculty of Science, was present, and spoke in his capacity as chairman of the Advisory Board of the McGill Y.M.C.A.

On Tuesday the Y.M.C.A. Financial Campaign opened, each class in all faculties being thoroughly canvassed by representatives of the Association.

The first rehearsal of the Glee Club was held in the Union Tuesday evening. An excellent attendance was secured, and the occasion was characterized by a most encouraging manifestation of enthusiasm.

In a well-contested water polo game between McGill and M.S.C., on Tuesday night, the latter aggregation succeeded in defeating McGill by a score of 4-0.

On Wednesday evening the Historical Club held its second meeting of the year. The subject for the evening's discussion was Plato's "Republic," and a very interesting and instructive paper was read by H. A. Ayles, '19.

The Science Freshmen tendered the Annual Dinner to the Sophomores on Wednesday evening in Freeman's Hotel. About a hundred were present, and a most enjoyable time was spent. The evening was passed in after-dinner speaking, and toast-making, interspersed with music.

It was definitely announced on Thursday that all Medical Students would be exempted from military service on condition that certain requirements were complied with, the principle one of which is that the academic examinations be passed satisfactorily.

On Friday evening the first meeting of the Literary and Debating Society took place in Strathcona Hall. It was the occasion for a debate upon the subject of "Food Control." Many members of the society were present, and as the opening meeting of the season, the event was a decided success.

Friday was also the night of the first meeting of the re-organized Economics Club. A paper was read by Dr. Joseph, the subject being the war theories of Norman Angell.

Nominations for representatives to the Students' Council from the various faculties were handed in on Friday. Arts, Science, and Law elected their representatives by acclamation.

A meeting of the Students' Council was held Friday evening, at which a surplus of funds (above working requirements) of $5,000, was reported, and a recommendation made that this surplus be placed in government securities. A request from the University authorities was received to the effect that the undergraduates who are not in the C. O. T. C. take part in the Victory Loan Parade to be held to-day.

Mr. and Mrs. William Knight, of Chilliwack, B.C., have announced the engagement of their daughter, Irene Leila, to Lt. William Percy Bunt, Arts '16, of the Royal Flying Corps, now serving in France. Mr. Bunt was a student for the Methodist ministry when he enlisted with the 148th Battalion, transferring later to the Royal Flying Corps. Miss Knight is a native of British Columbia.

Lieut.-Colonel Elton I. Leonard, Sci. '05, who went overseas in command of a battalion of Canadian Mounted Rifles, has been gazetted to the command of the Canadian Light Horse.

Lieut. W. S. Cole, Sci. '17, has been transferred from the Canadian Infantry to the Canadian Engineers. He was originally with the Engineers.

Capt. S. C. Richards, Vet. '96, of the Canadian Army Veterinary Corps, has been promoted to the rank of major while specially employed.

A copy of "The Sling," the bright magazine of a field ambulance somewhere in France, contains an appreciative article on Lieut.-Col. A. Lorne C. Gilday, Arts '98, Med. '00, formerly medical officer of the 87th Batt. Grenadier Guards, who has recently been appointed to the command of this particular unit. It says: "Lieut.-Col. A. Lorne C. Gilday, possessing a fine military carriage, well skilled in all matters pertaining to the work of operating a field ambulance, is a surgeon and physician of reputed ability, with a geniality combined with a sternness which is better understood on closer acquaintance, and a sense of humor that is contagious. Though new to the command, we extend to him a cordial welcome and can assure him of the same fidelity and unqualified support given to his predecessor. We entertain no doubt but that he will follow up the good work, and we give full assurance of our united support in everything that conduces to the increased reputation of the unit. Lieutenant-Col. Gilday has manifested a keen interest in his command, and spares no effort to assist them in all they do. He encourages their sports and their theatricals in a way that makes the boys feel glad with the result that when faced with the 'big work,' they are there."

Major J. S. Jenkins, D.S.O., Med. '12, has been promoted to the rank of lieutenant-colonel in the C.A.M.C. He is acting at Medical headquarters in London, after long service at the front.

Donald deC. Ross-Ross, Sci. '17, is serving in the Canadian Navy on the patrol ship Hochelaga.

Lieut. E. H. Paisley, Sci. '16, who has been with the 64th Battery at Guelp, Ont., since the breaking-up of Camp Petawawa, has decided to go overseas as a gunner, since he has not been selected to accompany the next draft of his battery overseas.

Dr. Andrew Macphail, Arts '88, Med. '91, has gone to Prince Edward Island, where it is understood, he will be a candidate for parliamentary honors at the coming election. Dr. Macphail's early home was in Prince Edward Island. Since leaving it he has won a prominent place in his profession. At the beginning of the war he volunteered for service in the Army Medical Corps, and for nearly three years has been on hospital work in Great Britain and France, from which latter country he has just returned.

The marriage was solemnized at the Holy Name Church, Manchester, Eng., on October 20, of Mrs. second daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Ziani de Ferranti of Baslow, Manchester, to Lieut. William Erling Ord, Med. '16, of the Royal Army Medical Corps, Croix de Guerre, fourth son of Mr. and Mrs. Craven Robert Ord, Weston, Ont. On October 23, at the Congregational Church, New Brighton, England, Dorothy May, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wood, New Brighton, was united in marriage to Captain Sidney Arthur Ord, Sci. '16, of the Royal Engineers, brother of the former. Lieut. W. E. ### OFFICER RETURNED FROM FRONT.

Lieut. Shirley G. Yulle arrived back in Montreal on Friday last, having been sent back to the instructional staff in Canada. Lieut. Yulle was badly wounded about the middle of 1916, and was sent home to Canada on sick leave. After convalescing here he returned to England in April, 1917, but on arrival was declared medically unfit, and attached to the Reserve Battalion at Crown Prosecutors. In the latter capacity he gained a great deal of experience, and had some most interesting cases, including bigamy. Lieut. Yulle was successful in every case he undertook. He states that conditions in England are very fair, but that the population, although certain of the final outcome of the war, are at the present time very pessimistic owing to the Russian and Italian situations. Lieut. Yulle admitted that before leaving for England in April last he had joined the ranks of the benedictines. He expects to complete his course in the Law Faculty next session.

SECOND WIND.

How many really know by experience of the existence of such a thing? Do you? It has not yet been discovered even by psychologists, I believe, just what the cause of this phenomenon is. But nevertheless it exists, as many people will testify. The physical laborer will assert that often, very often indeed, when he is "just all in," some change takes place within him, if he perseveres in his work, and his muscles receive a fresh supply of energy, his weariness is forgotten. So, too, with the man who lives by intellect. At a certain critical period when his brain seems quite fagged out, and he is thinking longingly of the comfort of relaxation, which some unfinished task forbids however—if he continues at his work unflinchingly, his brain will gradually become clearer and more powerful, perhaps, than it was even during his "first wind."

MICHIGAN LACKS TRACK MATERIAL.

To build a cross-country team from the greenest material that has ever turned out for the University of Michigan track work is the task that has confronted Trainer S. J. Farrell this fall. Nearly all of Michigan's prospective material was dissolved by enlistment last spring, and not one of the candidates who have thus far appeared has had more than elementary training. Despite this unpromising outlook, Trainer Farrell is working his men daily in an effort to round out a respectable team by the time the Western Conference meet takes place on November 24. The men who will compose Michigan's team at this meet will be picked at an elimination contest to be held to-morrow.
